

Rise up.

Hear me my brothers both far and wide,
Let us gather together in fraternal pride.
As we measure our greatness through charity,
By truth, and tolerance, so mote it be.

Let your daily deeds lead to trust,
Though friendship loyalty and liberty.
We stand together as we must,
United as a fraternity.

Our greatness has direction,
For our rule it is straight.
With purpose, & preparedness,
We honor that which is great.

Shape your lives to what your virtues are,
For good deeds travel both wide and far.
And as we remember that oath we solemnly took,
We will break it never over the sacred book.
